

If you can't work, why should your bank account suffer?

Help keep your finances together with Unum's group long term disability insurance.

Savings aren't always enough.

Even though Jane and Kurt have two incomes, they need both of their paychecks to cover the bills every month. They know that a serious illness or accident could keep one — or both — of them from going to work for months. They want some security that losing one of their paychecks doesn't threaten everything they have worked for.

Who's at risk?

- More than 38 million Americans suffer disabling injuries each year.¹
- Most disabilities are not work-related, and therefore not covered by workers' compensation.²
- Over 70% of American households could not pay their normal living expenses if a wage earner is disabled for six months.³

Your disability benefits help cover what matters most.

Unum's long term disability insurance pays you a percentage of your gross monthly salary if you cannot work due to a covered injury or illness.

It can provide a monthly benefit whether your disability prevents you from working at all or limits your ability to work.

These benefits can help you cover your expenses and protect your finances at a time when you're paying extra medical bills.

Extra long term disability features that add value:

Long term disability insurance can provide a monthly benefit whether your disability prevents you from working at all or limits your ability to work.

Return-to-work support

Unum’s insurance plan features programs for rehabilitation, worksite modifications, part-time return-to-work strategies, and a number of resources to help employees maximize their abilities after experiencing a disability.

If you are receiving long term disability benefits and participating in the return-to-work program, you can receive an additional 10% of your gross disability benefit (up to $1,000 per month). You may also qualify for a dependent care benefit for family members under age 15, or for family members over age 15 who require personal care assistance.

Social Security Disability Insurance assistance

Social Security Disability Insurance only covers severe disabilities that are expected to last at least 12 months or result in death. However, if you need to file an application for Social Security Disability Insurance assistance, Unum can put you in touch with an expert who can assist you through the process.⁴

What are these?

Benefit period and elimination period

Your plan will include a set benefit period and elimination period. If you are not familiar with those terms, here’s a quick explanation:

Benefit period — If you become disabled, this is the maximum amount of time you can receive benefits for a covered disability.

Elimination period — This is the number of days that must pass between your first day of a covered disability and the day you can begin to receive benefits.
